Meet a Student: Alero Megbele

A Kirklees College Creative Media student recently experienced the hustle and bustle of a professional film shoot.

Alero Megbele recently went behind the camera on set with renowned local Director Lee D Barnes and Ben Sweet from Film Buddy Online. The production gave Alero a real taste of what it takes to work in what is often a fast-paced world.

Alero has also been involved in many other aspects of college life, including being a Student Governor.

In a recent video, she spoke about these experiences and what has made her time at college so great.
